

HAUTŪ

Hautū are the leaders in a waka that call the time to the kaihoe | paddlers and guide the waka to travel in the direction of their vision.

Hautū: Māori Cultural Responsiveness Self Review tool for boards of trustees

Hautū has been developed for boards of trustees (boards) of English medium school settings. Hautū uses cultural responsiveness as an approach to tailor actions to the needs of your school and community.

Māori cultural responsiveness, in this instance, is the way in which a board responds to the aspirations of their Māori community by using evidence and action to build policies and practices/procedures that support Māori students to enjoy and achieve education success as Māori.

A Māori culturally responsive education environment is one that meets the needs of Māori students and the school's Māori community, delivers engaging education and strong student outcomes, and enhances Māori students' identity, language and culture through access to high quality teaching.

Background

The board is accountable for the performance of the school, with a key focus on raising student achievement for all students at the school.¹

Ka Hikitia – Accelerating Success 2013–2017 (Ka Hikitia) is the Government's strategy to guide action by education stakeholders such as boards, to fulfil their responsibility to ensure that their school works well for every Māori student.

The vision of Ka Hikitia, “Māori enjoying and achieving education success as Māori”, will be realised when Māori students are succeeding in our education system, achieving equitable² results, and confident in their identity, language and culture.

Boards require information to make informed decisions and set clear directions for Māori education success. Whether your school has a small or large percentage of Māori students, their success and contribution is critical to New Zealand's future.

Your responsibility as a board means:

- being accountable for the performance of your school to deliver on Māori student achievement
- designing the future direction for the successful learning of Māori students in your school
- that Māori parents, whānau and representatives of the school's Māori community contribute to governance, planning and decision-making
- expecting staff to teach and support Māori students to achieve education success as Māori.

ERO does not consider any school to be high performing unless the school can demonstrate that most of [its] Māori learners are progressing well and succeeding as Māori.

Education Review Office, Promoting Success for Māori Students: Schools' Progress, 2010, page 31

Purpose of Hautū

The purpose of Hautū is to allow boards to assess how culturally responsive their school is for Māori and identify priorities for development.

Audience

Hautū was developed for boards of English and Mixed medium schools; it may also be useful in other settings.

Expected outcomes

Boards will have:

- a good understanding of Ka Hikitia
- increased cultural responsiveness to Māori students, parents, whānau and local community
- increased awareness and understanding of their accountability for strengthening Māori student achievement
- increased knowledge, understanding and use of school, regional and national achievement data to strengthen Māori student achievement.

Māori students will have:

- strengthened progress and achievement through productive partnerships
- strengthened identity, language and culture
- education success as Māori.

² Fair and impartial

HAUTŪ AIMS TO

The Hautū of the waka use a range of chants to keep the time of the crew. Timing is critical for the waka to remain on course.

Hautū aims to:

- promote conversation and awareness to develop shared understandings
- support you to understand:
 - Māori cultural responsiveness
 - the impact of cultural responsiveness for Māori student progress and achievement
 - what cultural responsiveness could look like for a board or school
 - the level of cultural responsiveness of your school
 - the next steps your school can take to strengthen “Māori enjoying and achieving education success as Māori.”
- empower your board to have the confidence to engage effectively with your Māori community
- foster commitment to set and achieve goals, targets and expectations for and with Māori students, their parents and whānau.

The conversations that you have at your board meetings and with your school community will help determine what Māori enjoying and achieving education success as Māori will look like for your school. These conversations will help you to identify how the school will provide for Māori student achievement, access to te ao Māori, the Māori world, identity, language and culture.

This resource has been developed in alignment with the four key areas of governance, as outlined by New Zealand School Trustees Association.

⇒ ACCOUNTABILITY

⇒ LEADERSHIP

⇒ REPRESENTATION

⇒ EMPLOYER ROLE

The four key areas of governance are represented by the parts of the hoe | paddle to strengthen the roles and responsibilities of culturally responsive boards.

KAKAU: the kakau | handle must be sturdy and intact, it must be inspected for splits or cracks which can weaken the hoe. The area of Accountability is like the kakau and must be examined carefully to ensure boards meet their responsibilities for Māori students.

TINANA: the tinana | body can take many different shapes and lengths and is used to drive the hoe through the water. Boards can use the idea of the tinana to drive effective Leadership to accelerate the achievement of Māori students.

RAPA: the rapa | blade is the most visible part of the hoe and can be covered with carvings that show ownership. Boards can liken the rapa to the school's Representation of Māori students, their parents, whānau and the community, who must be visible in all decision making.

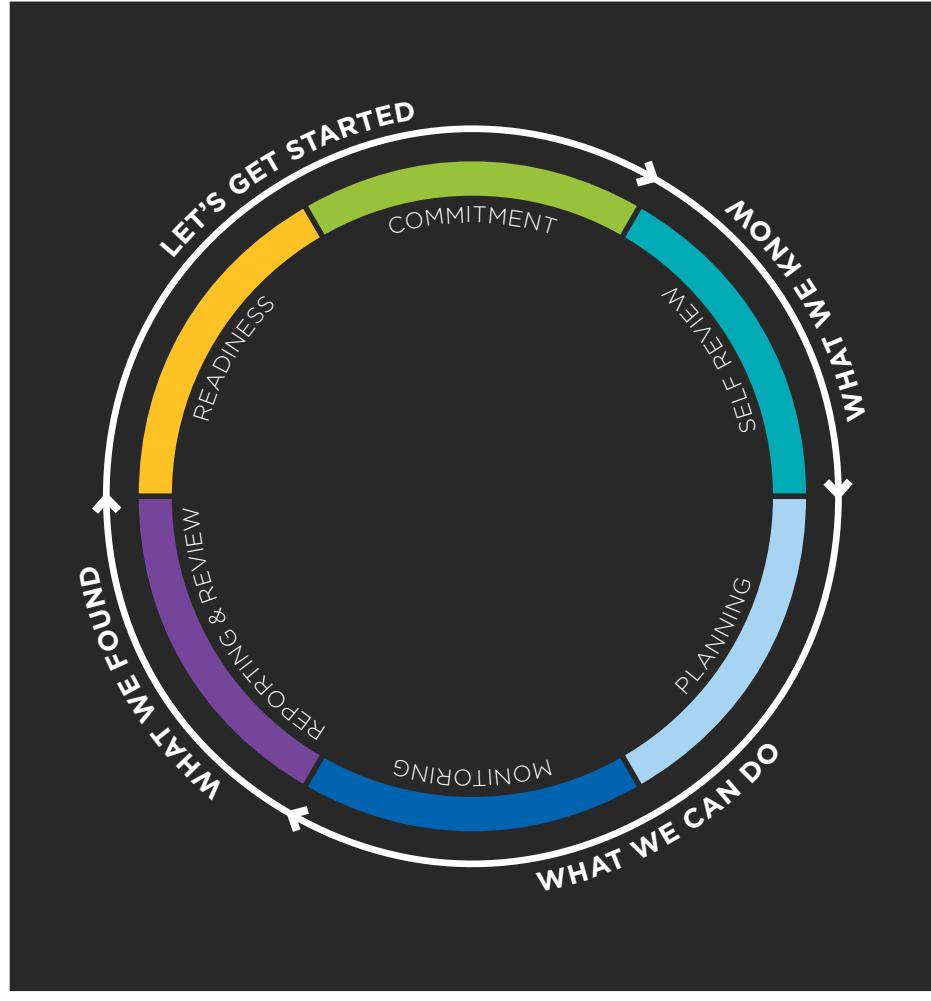

KOINGA: the koinga | tip is the point of impact of the hoe as it meets the water. Boards can think of the koinga as the role of the Employer, to make decisions that result in quality teaching that impacts positively on everyday learning for Māori students.

In order to support improved learning outcomes for Māori students, reviewing the cultural responsiveness of the board or school is a useful tool to ensure that clear expectations, goals and targets are set, monitored and reviewed. This should form part of the board's self-review workplan so that it can inform the board's strategic planning and reporting.

USING HAUTŪ

Overview of stages for using this tool

In order to maximise the use of this tool, work through each stage of the following cycle.

Outline of stages for using this tool

Stage	Explanation As a Board, we...
READINESS	<ul style="list-style-type: none">→ will enter this tool at varying phases of readiness→ have an understanding of the importance of Māori enjoying and achieving education success as Māori→ are prepared to have honest conversations to identify and make the changes that are required→ can use a range of resources to strengthen our understandings. Resources can be found at: www.nzsta.org.nz/assets/Maori-student-achievement/Hautu.pdf
COMMITMENT	<ul style="list-style-type: none">→ are committed to this process.
SELF REVIEW	<ul style="list-style-type: none">→ undertake a process of self review, by gathering the evidence and using the assessment criteria.
PLANNING	<ul style="list-style-type: none">→ use school, regional and national achievement data to develop a picture of achievement for Māori students within our school→ use this evidence to develop goals and targets.
MONITORING	<ul style="list-style-type: none">→ continue to monitor progress towards our goals and targets→ make adjustments where necessary.
REPORTING & REVIEW	<ul style="list-style-type: none">→ receive evidence and analysis to indicate progress towards our goals and achievement against targets→ critique and challenge the analysis to ensure that a positive difference to student learning (achievement, identity, language and culture) has occurred→ identify next steps, using evidence.

LET'S GET STARTED

Phases of readiness

Boards will be at different levels of readiness. Identify where your board best fits in the readiness phases below or continue on with the next stage.

Phases of Readiness	Actions
PHASE 1 READINESS The board has an emerging understanding of Ka Hikitia.	Use Ka Hikitia or Ka Hikitia Summary to assist you in understanding the board's role and responsibilities by answering the following questions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Why was Ka Hikitia developed? 2. What is the vision of Ka Hikitia? 3. What are the guiding principles? 4. What are the critical factors for success? 5. What are the outcomes for schooling in each focus area? 6. As a school, are we working towards the vision of Ka Hikitia – Māori enjoying and achieving education success as Māori? After this discussion your board may like to move onto the next phase of readiness or move on to the commitment stage.
PHASE 2 READINESS The board has a developing understanding of how Ka Hikitia supports Māori student achievement.	Use the following resource to further your understanding of cultural responsiveness: Effective governance – Supporting educational success as Māori. Move on to the commitment stage.
PHASE 3 READINESS The board is integrating the principles of Ka Hikitia.	The following resources may assist you: Tātaako: Cultural competencies for teachers of Māori learners (Ministry of Education). Promoting success for Māori students: Schools' progress (Education Review Office). Use the self review stage to confirm your practice and identify next steps.

Commitment

Once the board has committed to Hautū, there are a number of ways it can be used. It is recommended that your board works together using an inquiry process with a clear focus on student achievement. An inquiry process is an active cycle of questioning, collecting, organising, synthesising and communicating information to encourage a cooperative outcome.

Possible ways to use Hautū include:

- working through one key area of governance at a time
- using an external facilitator to assist in this process
- setting aside time to go through the whole document.

WHAT WE KNOW

Self review – Gathering the evidence

Use the questions below to identify the evidence your board has for the leadership governance area, in relation to Māori enjoying and achieving education success as Māori.

LEADERSHIP – gathering the evidence

Tinana of the hoe represents driving leadership

Guiding questions:

What evidence is there that board documentation sets and models clear expectation for high levels of cultural responsiveness across the school?

What evidence is there that effective relationships exist within and across the school community, focused on Māori enjoying and achieving education success as Māori? (use the leadership criteria if required)

Focus	Evidence

WHAT WE CAN DO

Planning

Following the self review of your evidence and using the assessment criteria, the Board should use the planning section templates to:

- identify priorities for development – these will form your strategic aim
- prioritise the two to four areas for immediate focus
- set strategic goals and targets from evidence gathered using Hautū
- determine the evidence you will gather to monitor your progress
- develop processes for monitoring, reporting and reviewing your progress towards achieving your goals and targets. This should include the process the board will use for engaging with Māori students, their parents, whānau and wider Māori community.

Monitoring

- Continue to monitor progress towards your goals.
- Review interim feedback and evidence.
- Make adjustments where necessary.

WHAT WE FOUND

Reporting & Review

Analyse your evidence:

- what does it tell you about progress towards your goals and achievement against targets?
- critique and challenge the analysis to ensure that this action/strategy has made a positive difference to Māori student learning (achievement, identity, language and culture)
- how will this information be reported back to your Māori community?
- what are your next steps?
- use the evidence and analysis to identify next steps.

Use the templates provided to support the planning, monitoring, review and reporting process.
